Health Plan Bill Offered

No Republican Names On Disputed Measure Handed To Congress

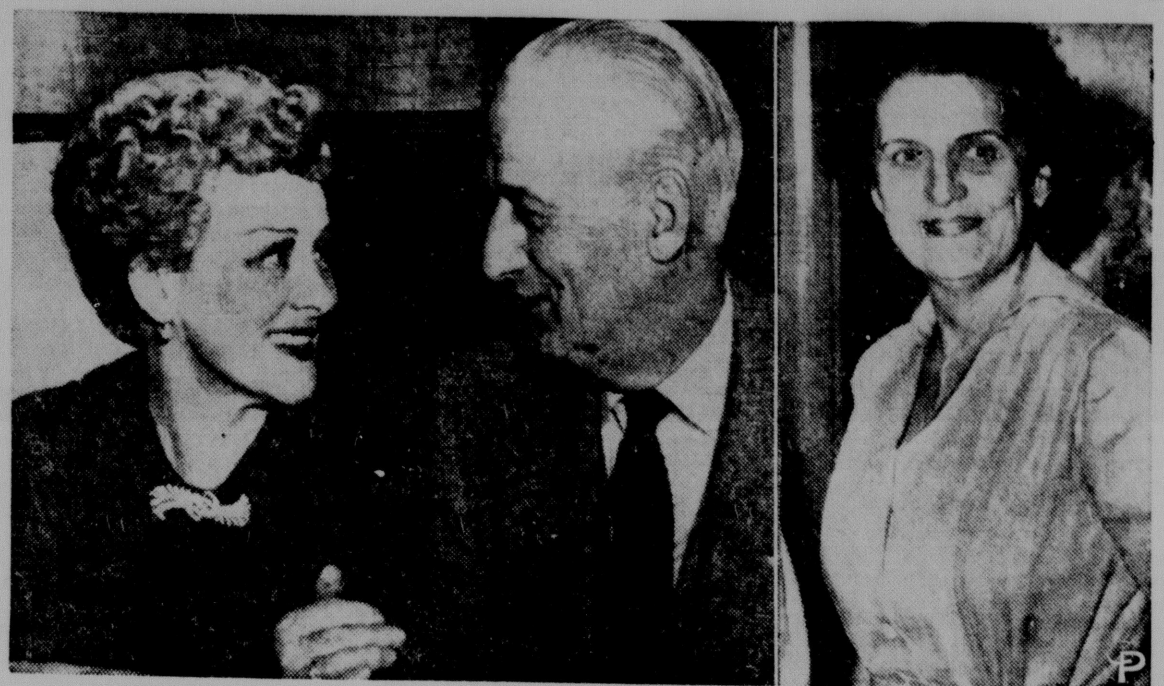

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Legislation to carry out President Truman's far-reaching health program was introduced in congress today.

The bill calls for payroll-tax insurance to provide medical, hospital and dental care for about 120,000,000 Americans at a sponsor-estimated cost of around $6,000,000,000 a year.

The administration measure also would put into effect all the other phases of Mr. Truman's program.

Those include federal grants for medical education, hospital construction, public health services

Mother Of Lincoln Man Questioned In Millionaire's Death

... Mrs. Agnes Garnier To Be Central Figure At Hearing Into California Shooting

RIVERSIDE, Calif. — (INS) — Strange circumstances surrounding the death of John E. Owen, millionaire ranch and apartment house owner, get their first official airing today.

A coroner's jury, at 4 o'clock this afternoon, is to hold an inquest into the shooting of the 68-year-old president of the National Apartment House Owners association at his $500,000 ranch home Friday night.

Mrs. Agnes E. Garnier, 53-year-old divorcee who was with Owen when he was shot and who is being held on suspicion of murder, will be a central figure at the hearing.

Conflicting Versions.

It is not known whether she will testify or will stand on her constitutional right to refuse.

However, whichever way it turns out, it is expected that the conflicting versions of the affair will be placed on the record by several witnesses.

Among these are Deputy Sheriff M. L. Vivion, District Attorney William O. Mackey, the dead man's brother, C. A. Owen, Coroner Ben White and Pete Corales, foreman of the Owen ranch.

Vivion, early in the investigation of the case, described Mrs. Garnier as admitting that she shot Owen because he intended to jilt her and transfer his affections to actress Irene Rich.

Confidential Secretary.

Mrs. Garnier was the millionaire's confidential secretary and manager of his Dubarry apartment hotel in Los Angeles.

Vivion quoted her as saying she had been deeply in love with Owen for years and as complaining bitterly that Mrs. Owen, from whom the wealthy rancher was estranged, wouldn't give him a divorce to marry her, Mrs. Garnier, but would give him one to marry the actress.

Later the deputy "clammed up" and refused to discuss the case.

Mrs. Garnier told District Attorney Mackey that Owen, drunk, was killed during a struggle for possession of a pistol with which he threatened her. She said the weapon discharged accidentally.

Monday morning he would leave this afternoon for Riverside, Calif., to appear in defense of his mother, Mrs. Agnes Garnier, who is being held in connection with the fatal shooting Friday night of John E. Owen, millionaire ranch and apartment house owner of Los Angeles.

According to an International News Service dispatch the 68-year-old president of the National Apartment House Owners association was shot at his $500,000 Riverside ranch home.

Stephens, who lives at the Capital Hotel, said Monday "the first time I heard anything about the shooting was during a news broadcast here Saturday night."

Inquest Today.

He said "I don't know yet whether or not I will testify but I doubt it." I don't know anything about the circumstances.

An inquest was scheduled to open at 4 p.m. Monday.

Stephens said Monday he had been corresponding regularly with his mother, confidential secretary to Owen, but that she had said nothing to the effect that Owen had been ill or depressed.

Stephens also said Monday that he had seen Owen a little over a year ago in Los Angeles "and I was aware of the situation as it existed there before I left."

The International News Service Monday quoted Stephens as telling the following story by long distance telephone from Lincoln to a Los Angeles newspaperman:

Stephens related that unhappiness had been the lot of his mother in recent years because of her relationship with Owen. He reported Stephens as saying: "There was no longer any jealousy between them—that left many years ago."

John Owen had suffered grievously from fits of depression and twice had tried to kill himself.

"John told me once he wanted to separate from his wife but that his property was all tied up. He was very unhappy with the situation. Then the OPA came along and he couldn't increase any of the rents and he had financial problems."

"Once he told me at the Riv-

Consumer Will Benefit, Solons Told

Surplus Would Mean Lower Retail Prices

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Brannan again told congress today that it is not possible to forecast the cost of the administration's proposed new farm program.

He said the difficulty about making estimates is that the cost question is tied so tightly to general business conditions.

Brannan was testifying before the house agriculture committee. He outlined the administration's new plan to the committee before the house took its 10-day Easter vacation. The members asked him then to come back after the holiday with figures on the probable cost.

Although he had no cost estimate of his own, Brannan described as "reckless" estimates—some made by congress members—that the cost might run $3,000,000,000 to $10,000,000,000 a year.

Assumes No Depression.

"If I understand the estimates correctly, all of them assume a severe depression and low farm income," he said. "I confess that I do not assume a depression. On the contrary, the whole proposal is designed to help avoid a depression by maintaining reasonable farm income."

Hill Selected Outstanding Young Man In Nebraska '48

... Two Other Lincolns Get Jaycees' Key Awards

FREMONT, Neb.—Leo Hill, 35, Lincoln businessman, was selected as Nebraska's outstanding young man of 1948 at the annual state convention of the junior chamber of commerce here Sunday.

A distinguished service award key was presented Hill. The award was made in recognition of his service to the community and state, primarily in youth welfare and other humanitarian activities.

Dean M. Kerl, vice-president of the Lincoln junior chamber of commerce chapter, presented the award to Hill and listed some of his many accomplishments. Hill is a council member of the Lincoln Jaycee chapter. For the past three years he has been actively engaged in youth activities in the Lincoln Jaycee organization. For the past year he has been chairman of sports for the Nebraska junior chamber of commerce.

LEO HILL

Hill is president of his congregation at Tifereth Israel. He is also a board member of the National Jewish Appeal for Displaced Persons, and is on the national planning board for the United Synagogue of America. In his business, as assistant to the president of the Northwestern Iron and Metal company, Hill serves in an advisory capacity for the Institute of Scrap Iron and Steel and for the National Association of Waste Material Dealers.

N. U. Graduate.

Hill received his BA degree from the University of Nebraska in 1934. He served in the army from 1941 to 1946 and is now a lieutenant colonel in the organized reserves.

On June 24, 1934, he married Betty Astor. Mr. and Mrs. Hill have two children, Joe and Gary.

In accepting the award, Hill said, "Service to the community is the keyword of a member of the junior chamber of commerce. Public service takes a great deal of time and it's necessary to have the complete understanding of one's wife and family." He also stated, "Serve others well and they in turn will serve you."

Minard, Frederick Honored.

Key awards in the Nebraska junior chamber of commerce were presented to Francis J. Minard and Clarence E. Frederick, both of Lincoln, for their outstanding service to the state organization.

Truck Weight Restrictions Are Removed

... On State Roads

State Engineer F. H. Kliebsch announced Monday that all load limit restrictions on Nebraska highways will be lifted at one minute after midnight Tuesday.

Several northern and northwestern bituminous-surfaced state highways have been under weight restrictions since March 15 to protect them until sub-grades could dry out. Restrictions on many of the roads were lifted earlier.

During the time the roads were posted, the state engineer and the governor were flooded with protests from persons in the affected area. More than 200 farmers, truckers and businessmen in the northwest part of the state journeyed to Lincoln to appear personally at a protest meeting before the governor.

Bosses Must Bargain For Pension Plan

... Supreme Court Holds

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Supreme court held in effect today that employers must bargain with unions on worker pension plans.

However, only companies subject to federal labor laws—that is, firms whose goods cross state lines—are affected. Likewise the unions involved must be eligible to use labor relations board machinery.

Such a decision already had been handed down by the United States Circuit court in Chicago in a case affecting the Inland Steel company. Inland appealed to the high tribunal, contending among other things it already has a company-wide pension system which would be destroyed by the decision.

Further, Inland said all similar pension plans which are company-wide would be destroyed by the effects of the decision.

Let Decision Stand.

The Supreme court refused to review the Circuit court ruling, thus letting it stand unchanged.

The Circuit court decision upheld a national labor board ruling that the company engaged in an unfair labor practice by refusing to negotiate with the C.I.O. United Steel Workers concerning Inland's pension plan.

Along with the ruling on the pension plan issue, the Circuit court upheld an NLRB finding that officials of the union must be non-communist officers before the board will require the company to begin bargaining on pensions.

The union, rather than the company, appealed this part of the decision to the Supreme court. The high tribunal last Jan. 17 agreed to rule on the union's appeal but deferred arguments until its new term in October.

Mercury Hits 86, April 25 Record Here

State's High Is 90 At Sidney On Sunday

The temperature reading in Lincoln at 2:30 p. m. Monday was 86.

The mercury hit its high mark for the year Sunday in the state with 90 degree readings at both Sidney and Hayes Center.

The warm temperatures sent thousands of Nebraskans to lakes and rivers and on way-side picnics. The high in Lincoln was 74.

Partly cloudy weather is forecast for the entire state tonight and Tuesday with a few scattered light showers in the north and extreme west portions. Highs Tuesday are expected to hit 75 degrees in the north and 85 in the south.

New April 25 Record.

At noon today a new record was established in Lincoln when the mercury soared to 86 degrees—the highest ever recorded on April 25. However, the weather bureau said, the mark is not a record for the season, as it has been warmer earlier than this in previous years, but not on April 25.

Over the nation, the temperature soared to new season records. At sun-baked Indio, Calif., the mercury reached 108 while at Land O' Lakes, Wis., the mercury fell to a chilly 20.

There were snow and rain squalls in the lakes area, western New York, Pennsylvania, and Ohio.

Other high and low readings in state were Burwell, 79 and 59; Grand Island, 78 and 54; Lincoln, 74 and 57; Norfolk, 73 and 61; North Platte, 88 and 60; Omaha, 75 and 54; and Valentine, 88 and 52.

"The Man That Wasn't There"

J. P. Miller, 2015 B. Monday was trying to figure out why he got a notice of a New York parking violation when he hadn't driven in New York this year.

A letter received from the traffic division of the magistrates courts 455 West 151st street advised Miller that he failed to appear in court for a parking violation on Jan. 5, 1949 "in the vicinity of 300 West Forty-third street."

After warning him that he might be arrested and jailed for failure to appear, the letter suggested sending $15 in payment of the penalty.

Miller said he wanted more information.

Low Normal Fees Attract Out-Staters

More Expected In State Schools If Liberal Arts Degrees Are Allowed

By PAUL SCOTT.

Nebraska taxpayers may in the future pay "more and more" for educating students from other states.

That's the outlook if the legislature passes pending legislation which allows the state's four normal schools to grant liberal arts degrees. The bill is now on final reading.

The magnet which would attract students from other states—especially the border states of Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, and Colorado—would be the low fees ($50 a semester credit hour) and the small out-of-state tuition charge.

22% Out-Staters.

Take for an example our neighbor Iowa. Even this year 33 Iowans are among the 186 students to be graduated at Wayne State Teachers college where the 41 out-of-state seniors represent 22 per cent of the graduating class.

Currently, it costs these Iowa students only $5 a semester as out-of-state students. However, at the University of Nebraska, where 250 Iowa students are enrolled, the out-of-state cost is now $150 a semester.

With Iowa students currently paying less for their education in normal schools in the state (out-of-state fee included) than in Iowa schools, opponents of the normal school expansion will point out that the "cheap fee rate" for liberal arts courses will bring students by the hundreds across the Missouri to our teachers colleges.

With normal schools already asking for more money for increased enrollments, the cost to state taxpayers will continue to jump, the opponents of the bill charge.

They cite the Wayne case where 819 students are now enrolled. Already 160 of these are from out of state. How many more the number would be if the school could grant B.A. degrees at the same low tuition and out-of-state fee, nobody was ready to predict today.

'Union Of Nations Is Only Way'

U.S. COMMANDER CALLS FOR ASSOCIATION OF WESTERN COUNTRIES AT AP MEETING

NEW YORK—(AP)—Gen. Lucius D. Clay, U. S. military governor in Germany, said today "the only sure way to peace" is in the formation of an association of the free nations of western Europe, including Germany.

"The forming of an association of the free nations of western Europe with Germany integrated therein will create lasting stability in Europe and will not only end the threat of communist expansion but will make it difficult for the communist front to keep in contact," Clay said. "It is the only sure way to peace."

Clay made the statement in a message to members of the Associated Press, worldwide news gathering co-operative, at their annual luncheon in the Waldorf Astoria hotel. The message was read by J. Wes Gallagher, AP chief of bureau in Germany.

At a business meeting earlier, the members voted for six directors and acted on the applications of 17 associate members for regular membership.

Control Of Press.
The board of directors, in its annual report, said there was a continuation of a trend by governments abroad to control the news. But, it added, AP representatives and AP newspapers "in all accessible parts of the globe" are contributing to independent world news coverage.

Military government will cease with establishment of a west German government, Clay said.

"A west German government," he said, "can develop in the democratic tradition only as it is given the right to associate with nations which have long traditions of democratic government and it can form such association more readily under the guiding hands of a civilian high commission.

Good Will Needed.

"The time for punitive measures has ended. Good will and a helping hand are needed, not only to create the new government but to make it feel that it is wanted back in the comity of free nations as quickly as it has demonstrated its own will to be free."

The board of directors noted in its report that the Associated Press served 1,708 newspapers and 940 radio stations in the United States in 1948. Throughout the world, the number of newspapers, other publications, and radio stations served increased from 3,921 to 4,274.

"It is safe to say," the board said, "that no like period in the history of the Associated Press has produced so great an upswing in member news exchange as have the last 12 months. Executive Editor Alan J. Gould's weekly logs give instance after instance of this—each an inspiring illustration of energetic membership loyalty."

Auditorium Would Boost Entertainment

Becker Urges Voters Approve Bond Issue

"The new proposed auditorium will bring to Lincoln many fine events such as opera, leading lecturers, outstanding theatrical productions and sporting events," Ed. Becker, chairman of the American Legion city auditorium committee, declared Monday.

In urging voters to approve the $1,500,000 bond issue for auditorium at the Tuesday, May 3 election, Becker stated:

"Lincoln has long been in the awkward position of having to turn down certain important conventions and other large functions because of a lack of auditorium facilities," Becker stated. "Even more embarrassing is the fact that we cannot accommodate meeting space requirements of certain of our local organizations."

"Needs of Lincoln people for an auditorium have been studied extensively," Becker said, "and the proposed comprehensive plans were drawn by a board of Lincoln architects to cover all these needs."

The proposed auditorium includes a sports arena, a main theater and a little theater, five meeting rooms of varying sizes plus administration offices. Space is provided for industrial and agricultural shows and all types of general exhibits.

Becker said there is no doubt that Lincoln needs an auditorium or that Lincoln people want an auditorium. The final vote is to be taken Tuesday, May 3, which will determine if Lincoln people are to have a city auditorium in the near future.

Plans and a model of the proposed building are on display in Lincoln retail store windows.

Approximately $950,000 in bonds already voted will be added to the $1,500,000, if approved, for the building of the auditorium.

UNICAMERAL

However, after Sen. Tvrdek gave his closing statement he was questioned closely but good naturedly by the other members.

He had called attention to the fact that chemicals to color tax exempt gas are no longer used. He also pointed out that the city dweller pays for his own street improvements and gas tax too.

Little Larceny In All.

"Some sacrifice is going to have to be made by all of us if we have good roads," Tvrdek explained. "Should one-third of a total of 28,000 of the 80,000 to 100,000 farmers in the state be the only ones to be given special benefits? Refunds have amounted to $3,000,000. If matched with federal funds look at the good roads we would now have."

"Don't you think the farmers are honest?" Sen. Hern inquired.

"In all of us, there is a little larceny in our hearts," Tvrdek shot back as his colleagues roared.

"Is the farmer to blame that the chemicals are not used in tax exempt gasoline?" Metzger inquired.

Industrial Refund.

"I doubt it," Tvrdek responded. "It is probably the fault of the legislature and the administration, but no one is doing anything about it. Before the war spot checks were made and examples made of violators. The law was not changed by the war."

When the amendment was voted down by voice vote, Tvrdek then offered another amendment to exempt industrial use of gasoline. He also provided that any user of tax exempt gas be required to show that he had paid personal tax on the vehicle in which it is used.

Sen. Karl Vogel joined in support of the amendment. He said manufacturing and industry had suffered similar drops in price to the decline in farm prices. Sen. Willard Wilson also held that industry should be given equal consideration with the farmer.

Sen. Lester Anderson issued a word of caution. "If you don't watch out you are going to have a larger department of refunds than you have a highway department," he said. "If you don't think so, go down and see how much it has grown already."

Sen. Tvrdek made a plea of fairness that the man who uses gas but not the highways be given equal consideration wherever he lives.

Vote 21 to 11.

The amendment lost with 11 ayes, 21 nays and 11 not voting. The vote:

FOR THE AMENDMENT.
J. Adams, Benesch, Holmes, O'Brien, Larkin, O'Brien, Metzger, O'Brien, Tvrdek, Schroeder, W. Wilson, Vogel.

AGAINST.

NOT VOTING.
T. Adams, V. Anderson, Babcock, Carlson, Crestinger, Davies, Lee, Lastenski, Norman, Vogt, W. Wilson.

Again by voice vote the legislature turned down an amendment by Tvrdek to discontinue all exemptions.

Sen. Hal Bridenbaugh attempted to have the amount of gasoline tax exempt in tanks of motor vehicles entering the state reduced from 20 to 15 gallons but it was voted down.

Bills Held.

Several senators announced that they later will have amendments to offer to the highway bills and with no objections they are being held on general file.

The legislature read and adopted amendments to LB 492 equalizing the tax on non-gasoline burning vehicles. The increase is approximately 20 per cent, the same as the proposed one-cent gas tax increase. An amendment was adopted bringing diesel-burning buses under the equalization fee.

An original proposal that one-half-ton trucks burning other than gasoline be increased from $4 to $20 was reduced to $15.

The legislature also recalled for amendment LB 100 to give Douglas county members of mental health boards $5 per day, the same as is being granted in other counties. Present rate is $3.

Denton School Districts Veto Consolidation

Three Districts Vote 'No'; Two Approve

The Denton school district still has its No. 1 headache: A condemned school building.

Hope for a new school building was erased last week when three of the six districts voting on the proposed organization of a rural high school district turned thumbs down. The proposal called for the consolidation of the six districts.

Voters in school districts 136 and 70 approved the measure, but those in districts 144, 66 and 69 voted "nay." District 101 is scheduled to hold its vote Monday night.

Building Condemned.

The six districts previously agreed that all must be in favor of the rural high school district before the proposal could pass.

Frank Sullivan, Denton, moderator of the Denton district school board, said Monday the district plans to hold a meeting May 6 to determine what future steps should be taken: Whether to rebuild or contract high school students to other schools.

The present Denton school building, housing about 40 students, was condemned several weeks ago by the state fire marshal. Approximately four months of the present school term remain.

Shanghai's residents waited under a lowering sky in a steady rain for the Reds to show up, but none had yet appeared.

City of 5 Million.

The feeling grew among Shanghai's 5,000,000 inhabitants that the great Asiatic commercial center would go over to the communists without a fight, just as Nanking did Sunday morning.

Seymour Topping, Associated Press correspondent in Nanking, reported the former nationalist capital received the communists quietly at 3:20 a. m. Sunday, (Nanking time). One of the communist soldiers' first tasks was to put out a fire that vandals had started in the judicial Yuan building. The building was a total loss.

The communists took their stations before some foreign embassies and all government buildings and utilities in Nanking. No guards were placed before the American embassy, however.

"Welcome" Planned.

During the afternoon three government planes tried to destroy gasoline and ammunition dumps at the Nanking airport. Communist spokesmen said they overshoot their mark and their machine-gun bullets injured some Nanking children at play.

A welcome to the communists by Nanking residents was planned for later.

2 KILLED, 3 WOUNDED BY KANSAS MAN

ABILENE, Kas.—(AP)—A 65-year-old farmer shot to death two officers and wounded three other persons at his home five miles southeast of here.

The farmer, Charles K. Rush, then perished in his burning house.

County Attorney John Rush said Rush killed Sheriff E. F. Davis, 38, and his deputy, Milton L. Davis, 58. The officers were brothers.

Rush said the farmer apparently went berserk early in the morning, wounded his housekeeper, Mrs. Mae Pettress, and his brother-in-law, Mervin Franks, and then set afire two outbuildings.

Mrs. Pettress, about 65, ran to a neighboring farm for aid. Franks said he "played dead" for about half an hour after being shot and fled from the house when it began to burn.

A neighbor, Fred Uhl, 30, was shot as he came to the Rush farm, attracted by the flames.

The sheriff and his deputy also were shot as they approached the house.

HEALTH PLAN BILL

and research. The bill also authorizes an experimental program of federal aid to farmers' health co-operatives.

Only Democratic Sponsors.

A sponsors' statement accompanying the bill was signed by Sen. Elbert D. Thomas (D-Utah), chairman of the senate labor and public welfare committee by Sens. Murray (D-Mont.), Wagner (D-NY), Pepper (D-Fla.), Chavez (D-NM), Taylor (D-Ida), McGrath (D-RI), Humphrey (D-Minn.) and by Reps. Dingell (D-Mich.) and Biemiller (D-Wis.).

Not a single republican's name was on the list of sponsors. Some republicans—as well as some democrats—have branded the president's national health insurance program "socialized medicine."

But the sponsors, in their joint statement, retorted that substitute "voluntary" plans backed by Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) and others travel "the sure road to socialized medicine."

The backers of the president's program called their payroll-tax plan "the tried and tested democratic way." They added:

No Overall Estimate.

"In fact, it is the only way we know of how to avoid socialized medicine x x x"

The sponsors of the administration bill made no estimate of the overall cost of the Truman program nor can one be made on the basis of the bill itself.

In some cases specific appropriations are called for, but in many other cases the bill simply says that whatever sum congress finds is necessary to carry out particular plans is "hereby authorized."

The sponsors did estimate the annual cost of the health insurance plan at about $8,000,000 a year, most of which would come from a three per cent tax on pay-rolls, split between workers and employers.

Federal aid for construction of hospitals would be doubled under the bill, going from the present $75,000,000 a year to $150,000,000.

A program for training practical nurses would cost $15,000,000 annually, while $10,000,000 the first year and $15,000,000 each of the next four would be available to farmers' health co-operatives.

A new child life research program would get $10,000,000 the first year and "the sum necessary thereafter to carry out the program." Grants and loans totalling $35,000,000 the first year would be authorized to encourage doctors and nurses to settle in rural and other shortage areas.

To push medical education, existing medical schools would get $300 for each student enrolled on the basis of average past enrollment, plus $1,700 for each student above that average.

Denial schools would get $250 and $1,300 on that same basis, while nursing, public health and sanitary engineering schools would get grants in varying amounts.

Congressional hearings on the bill are expected to start soon. There probably will be no final action on the legislation until next year.

Under the bill, the national health insurance program would not go into effect until July 1, 1951.

Surviving are seven sons, Calvin O., Paul E., both of Fremont, Bill S., Ralston, J. R., Cecil R., both of Lincoln, Otis J. and Oris C., both of Litchfield; three daughters, Mrs. Arnold Roerich, Kearney, Mrs. Milo Jonas, Schuyler, and Mrs. George Fisher, Greeley; two brothers, J. F. Wilson, Libertyville, Ill., and William Wilson, Alliance; 36 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

OMAHA—(AP)—Bryce Pohlman, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pohlman of Stanton, was "progressing quite satisfactorily" at Clarkson Memorial hospital today following his trip here from Norfolk Saturday in an hour and 42 minutes.

The boy was hurt more than a week ago when he fell from a tractor and was hit by machinery being pulled by the vehicle. His condition became "serious" Saturday and the state patrol assisted in getting the youth to a hospital here.

10 Die In Crash

Nine Members Of One Family Meet Death In Tennessee; 1 Survivor

CARTHAGE, Tenn.—(AP)—A fast freight train rammed a truck crowded with Sunday worshippers at a crossing near here last night, killing 10 persons—nine in one family—and seriously injuring another.

The truck burst into flames and was dragged some 100 yards down the track before the speeding Tennessee Central diesel could come to a halt.

Some of the dead were scattered along the tracks, while the rest were pinned in the cab of the truck.

All 11 were returning from church services to their homes at Hogan's Creek when the accident occurred at the Gordonsville-Lancaster road crossing about eight miles south of here.

List of Dead.

Instantly killed were:
Jess Bennett, 50, driver; his wife, Mattie Bell Bennett, 45, and their sons, Douglas, 12, U. L. 10, and Melvin Earl, 8.

Mrs. Paulie Bennett Dickens, 24, daughter of the Bennetts; her husband, Paulie Dickens, 27, and their 1-year-old daughter, Catherine.

W. E. (Coonie) Bennett, 49, Jess Bennett's brother.

Miss Linnie Gibbs, 17, died shortly after arriving at a hospital at nearby Lebanon.

Ruth Robinson, 18, the sole survivor, was hospitalized at Lebanon. Doctors said she suffered a broken pelvic bone.

Truck Ripped In Two.

An investigation of the accident was being conducted by J. T. Waddell, general manager of the railroad.

State Safety Commissioner Sam Neal, who hurried to the scene, said the train ripped the ton and a half farm truck in two. He said it appeared five persons were seated in the car and six on chairs set up in the back.

A son-in-law of the Bennetts,

John Overstreet, told Commissioner Neal he had stopped his car at the crossing to let some passengers out when the truck came up behind him.

"I knew the train was coming," he told Neal. "I tried to wave the truck down but my father-in-law pulled around me and went on in front of the train."

Tenant, Landlord Rights Equalized Under New Law

Tenants are granted equal rights with landlords in rent adjustment, eviction and rent control cases, under the new 1949 housing and rent act, Curry W. Watson, area rent director, announced today.

The act requires the right to petition for adjustment or appeal from an area rent office decision be allowed the tenant. These were formerly solely landlord rights.

"The regulation now provides that in actions sought, by landlord or tenant, the other party be notified by our office and given a chance to make known his position in the matter before a decision is made," Watson said.

Procedure Outlined.

According to him, in the "one landlord-one tenant" case, the landlord, if petitioning for an increase, will file the petition and a second copy with the rent office. The office keeps the original, sending the copy to the tenant. "If the tenant objects to the increase," he sends his response to the rent office in the same manner as the landlord, who has the right of rebuttal. Generally, the rent director will then make his decision and notify both parties. However, each may present additional evidence for review by the Chicago regional office, or may appeal to the national office in Washington.

Requests for rent decreases from tenants are processed in the same manner. But when a landlord seeks rent adjustment with two or more tenants, copies of his petition are not sent to the tenants. The office notifies them that the petition has been filed and may be seen at the office. Response or rebuttal is never served on the other party in this case but is added to the field petition.

Just That Simple

During the debate last week over the teachers colleges request to grant liberal arts degrees, Sen. Metzger of Cedar Bluffs tried to point out that the legislature was taking unto itself accreditation authority.

That goes to the very heart of all this discussion.

If the teachers colleges are to be made small universities all Nebraskans, except those suffering from a dog in the manger attitude, should desire that degree given by the teachers colleges in Nebraska to have the very highest standing possible, not only within the state, but all over the United States. It involves accreditation by the recognized agency. If it involves enlargement of the faculty, expansion of the curriculum, sizeable tax burdens, let's provide the money. If we do not do it at this session or the next, we'll have to do it before many legislative sessions.

We should provide for five good liberal arts colleges—not one. We cannot afford to create in this state the fantastic idea that one liberal arts college exists for rich boys, four other liberal arts colleges for poor boys. Education is for poor and rich alike. We have moved a thousand miles away from Thomas Jefferson in much of the current discussion over LB 294. About the nuttiest idea we've had tossed at us is that by law we can satisfy the educational hopes of a poor boy, while taking care of the educational preparation of the rich boy at another institution.

The poor boy has his own ideas about that. He will go to the best if he has to go without food, wear shabby clothes, and burn midnight oil. Thousands have done it, and that is why they amount to something.

Beg Pardon, Mr. Speaker

Elsewhere on this page appears a letter from Speaker Earl J. Lee of the Nebraska unicameral, properly reprimanding the editor for misquoting him. We are sorry. The mistake was an honest one, but nevertheless a mistake, hence this correction, and genuine expression of regret.

When Gov. Val Peterson last week appeared before the legislature with a special message on highways it was said here Speaker Lee's comment was to the effect that the "Nebraska chief executive apparently was trying to pass the buck." What Speaker Lee actually did say was: "I think he (Governor Peterson) has passed the ball to the legislature."

In his letter Senator Lee points out that "passing the buck" means avoiding responsibility, while "passing the ball" means to shift the offensive. It has been a great many years since the editor played football, not a very good game at that when he did play it, but when someone passed him the ball he

NEBRASKA BEEFSTEAK, EATEN RAW?

It has become apparent to some of the political observers in the national capital that Nebraska's Senator Kenneth Wherry has taken to himself a new role. He is talking more, if possible, giving out more statements to the newsmen who cover Capitol Hill for the American press. To an even greater degree than during the sessions of the 80th congress he has become the voice, a very loud voice, for the republican party, all to one purpose, becoming the party's candidate for the presidency in 1952.

If an individual finds the Washington atmosphere a heady tonic, Senator Wherry's ambition is understandable. From the main street of a typical midwest town to the mansion that anchors one end of Pennsylvania avenue is the golden dream that occupies the thoughts of any ambitious politician.

Late in the week Senator Wherry gave out the most significant statement to come from him since his election to the senate. He asserted that the whole program of foreign aid—including arms for western Europe—must be "cut to fit the pattern" of government income. His remark was inspired by testimony given by Secretary of State Acheson before the foreign relations committee to the effect that helping to rearm nations which have signed the North Atlantic treaty would cost $1,130,000,000 in the year beginning July 1.

We do not know that there is anything sacred about any set of figures, prepared either by the executive or the legislative branches of government. They represent only estimates prepared by people supposed to be fully informed and fully qualified to pass judgment. They are subject to increase or decrease. Although Senator Wherry would be the first to disclaim any purpose to lead his party back to its isolationist attitude of the '20s, his constant criticism of American foreign policy, his continued attacks upon funds which a very large representative faction within his own party believe to be vital to the fulfillment of American commitments, gives some foundation to repeated references in the press and on the radio to Nebraska as the only one state among 48 that believes in isolation. And that is not true.

But Senator Wherry is miles away from Senator Vandenberg, Senator Aiken, nearly a

had the notion he was supposed to run with it, elude the tacklers if he could, and get smacked down if he couldn't.

Now the reader knows what Speaker Lee meant by his comment—namely, that the governor had run as far as he could legally, and it was up to the legislature to carry on from that point.

So far as this paper is concerned, it has on many occasions advocated as strongly as language will permit approval of the governor's highway proposals. It is for his gas tax raise, his motor license fee boost. It has said so repeatedly.

No Matter Of Pride

Out in the Nebraska Panhandle Editor "Bob" Agee had one of the most significant editorials to appear in a Nebraska newspaper in many years under the heading of "The White Spot Doldrums."

The Alliance Times-Herald editor recalls that for many years Nebraska has been known as "The White Spot of the Nation," a phrase which he says has clung to it like a leech, because Nebraskans pay lower taxes than most other states. In 1948 the Times-Herald says Nebraska paid 50 million dollars in state taxes, an average of $38.76, while directly to the west Colorado people paid 83 millions or $72.36 each. Then Mr. Agee winds up and really lets fly:

"This state collected in taxes much less per person than any Missouri basin state and less nationally than any other state except a few in the south. Let's not be proud of this. Rather let us see just what this has meant to Nebraska. First, the state institutions have deteriorated during this 'white spot period.' Our hospitals, our asylums, our penal institutions, even our glorified nationally known state capital building need extensive repairs. A survey of the state's hospitals two years ago revealed shocking facts about the building construction, evidence that employees and even skilled doctors were paid parsimonious salaries. To remedy that fact partially the unicameral (two years ago) grudgingly levied a state tax to take care of rebuilding institutions. (Now that building program is to be turned into maintaining and equipping Nebraska's physical plant.) Another result of this parsimonious and niggardly attitude on the part of the people and its elected senators has been the deterioration of the state highway system. Flatly it can be said that Nebraska roads today are a disgrace. For a farm state depending upon trucks and private motor vehicles for transportation we have one of the worst road systems in the nation. Yet this 'white spot' philosophy has become so ingrained in the thinking of state leaders and citizens that they refuse to accept the situation and still argue endlessly."

Yes, these are harsh words.

Editor Agee has pulled no punches. What he has said however, rests upon a factual basis, the stark facts, not prejudice, not politics, but the stark facts. For years there was a good reason in this state—years of drought, years of depression—for economy until it hurt, and it did hurt, gravely, critically. After the war years there was still another excuse for not doing what was needed to be done in the scarcity of manpower and the scarcity of materials.

Those earlier solid reasons no longer exist.

And what do we find in leadership at this time, but a leadership of despair, still bogged down by what Mr. Agee so aptly calls the "White Spot Doldrums" of another era.

We cannot put these things off indefinitely.

We need better rural schools, which can only come through the construction of all-weather roads to permit the consolidation of weak school districts, involving the matter of daily transportation of youngsters to and from schools. We can't do a thing about rural schools until we do something about all-weather roads. We need greater facilities for our hospitals for the mentally ailing. We need adequate support for the state university. We need a leadership in Nebraska that has some faith in ourselves, a leadership of creative spirit, a leadership which recognizes nothing in the world worth while was ever built that did not entail sacrifice. We need to forget the White Spot and to build roads; we need to more adequately take care of our insane; we need to support education in the public schools and the higher institutions of learning. We need to get ourselves out of the doldrums of "the White Spot," which may have served us at one time, but which now promises to destroy us.

All of which brings joy to the heart of Sterling McCaw, of the Norfolk News, under the heading: "What-A-Man Wherry!" Mr. McCaw from a distance gazes upon the stature of Nebraska's brave new conservative knight, and offers up this eulogy:

"Upon what meat doth this, our Kenneth, feed that he has grown so great? Nebraska beefsteak, eaten raw? The wall of high democratic authority that Senator Wherry and his minority republicans are preventing a democratic congress from passing a democratic president's program, brings up these questions again. Reduced to a mathematical formula we seem to have something like this: 'Forty-one republican senators, plus Senator Wherry are greater than 54 democratic senators, plus Vice President Barkley! ... In terms of arithmetic 54 senators should be able to outvote 42 senators, but it seems that 'debil' Kenneth Wherry won't let them. What a man!'"

Brother McCaw seems to be behind in his reading. Senator Wherry did succeed in developing a coalition with Dixiecrats to tie the senate in knots for 15 days, and to defeat the attempt to reform senate rules so as to eliminate the filibuster. Most of the republican press and a large number of republican leaders have been screaming constantly since then that Senator Wherry's "coup" had put the party in a hole too deep for daylight to enter. Since then the republican floor leader has gone down swinging at a third strike every time he got to the plate. He mustered five republican votes besides his own in opposition to senate approval of the second year of the Marshall plan. He mobilized eight republican votes besides his own in senate approval of the housing bill. He has been with the minority, not the republican minority, but the ultra-conservative minority in every battle since his original victory in the matter of changing the senate rules. Why blame it on Nebraska beefsteak, served either raw or well done?

THE DAILY WASHINGTON The Daily GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Keep your eyes on the stubby little man with the gavel in his hand at Lake Success. Herbert V. Evatt, foreign minister of Australia and president of the U. N. general assembly, is the quiet center of the East-West cyclone. He is not afraid to make enemies for himself in his efforts to make peace.

Evatt used to be the trigger-man in counter-attacking the Soviets. Now he is leaning over backward to be fair, and bangs his gavel to protect the Russians as well as the Anglo-Saxons.

One day last week Evatt refused to let U. S. Ambassador Austin come to the defense of the Atlantic pact, after Soviet Gromyko had attacked it. Reason: Austin had just spoken on another subject, and Evatt made him wait his turn.

The Australian is a human dynamo, and sometimes a grouchy one. When he rides from the Drake hotel in Manhattan to Lake several lobbyists with five-digit incomes, including Frank E. Wilson ($12,000 a year, plus $2,000 expenses), and the husband-and-wife firm of C. W. Whitaker and Leone Baxter Whitaker, hot-shot west coast publicists. Together they are paid $100,000 a year to unself congress on national health insurance.

Gerard D. Reilly, ex-labor department solicitor and national labor relations board member, makes over $50,000 a year lobbying against certain phases of labor legislation he used to champion. His clients include General Motors ($36,000), the Printing Industry of America ($4,800) and General Electric (salary to be revealed in a later report to congress).

Other blue-chip lobbyists are Sherlock Davis, who gets $20,000 a year, plus a fancy expense account, from U. S.-Cuban sugar interests, and the New York public-relations firm of Bell, Jones and Taylor, which lobbies for a string of five-and-dime and variety stores.

Bell, Jones and Taylor is paid $10,000 a year by S. H. Kress and Co., $3,000 a year by McCrory Stores, plus $100 a day by these and other clients, including the G. C. Murphy Co., for keeping tab on legislation affecting retail trade.

The British high command has taken the highly unusual step of permitting French and Belgian factories to begin building British-type fighters—the highly secret British Vampire and Meteor models. These are the only allied planes which have any chance of keeping up with the 600-mile an hour Russian jets.

Stanton Griffis, the U. S. envoy who once admired Hitler, has informed the president he's not anxious to return to the U. S. embassy in Cairo. He has a strong yen for the much-coveted job of ambassador to the court of St. James.

Admiral Hillebrand's tour of duty is about up as chief of all American intelligence. Truman is looking for a replacement.

Freeman Matthews, U. S. ambassador to Sweden, heads the list of candidates for the job of assistant secretary of state in charge of Latin-American relations. The job was first offered to able Walter Donnelly, ambassador to Venezuela, but he turned it down on the advice of doctors.

The Italian government has begun to modernize its big military airbase at Foggia—even though it isn't allowed military planes under the peace treaty. Reason behind this is simple: Foggia is the nearest allied base from which American B-36's could atom-bomb Russia. Italian troops and police have posted a 24-hour-a-day guard around the airfield while the work is going on.

The fantastic feud between crippled Congressman Bob Crosser of Cleveland and GOI Congressman Charles Wolverton of Camden, N. J., over who would occupy offices next to the house interstate commerce committee has finally been settled. But it took Speaker Sam Rayburn personally and three months of dickering to iron out the dispute. As a result of the delay, there has been a logjam of vital legislation.

Wolverton, a republican and former chairman of the interstate commerce committee, objected to giving up a choice office next to the committee room. Crosser, his democratic successor as chairman, claimed this room should go to him. Crosser, who gets about in a wheel chair, wanted to be near committee headquarters.

But Wolverton refused to budge. Finally, Speaker Rayburn had to intervene. He found that on the other side of the committee room was an office held by kindly Rep. Lansdale Sasser of Maryland, who consented to move to make way for Crosser. So now, ex-Chairman Wolverton has an office on one side of the committee room, while new Chairman Crosser has an office on the other side. And at long last the committee, which has smashed all records for boondoggling, has begun hearings on the national science foundation bill.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I feel I should express to you my appreciation and gratitude for the time which was taken from one of your workers to conduct us on our J.C.L. trip. I don't believe this was entirely because of my interest in that type of work but that the different steps and processes of editing and publishing a newspaper were explained so well that it made my trip to The Lincoln Star a great pleasure. Some of the many interesting things I learned that impressed me were that editing and publishing a newspaper requires such a great number of workers and that so many records are kept.

MORE CONFUSION.

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Certain state senators assert that good state government in Nebraska requires a comptroller to assist or direct our finance commissioner and state auditor; that a general manager is required to assist the board of public lands and buildings; and the secretary; that a business manager is required to advise and direct the state engineer as to what constitutes good construction and maintenance standards and requirements in the department of roads and irrigation. Seriously, it would seem that these senators believe that Nebraska has now reached the point where good state government now requires more confusion, less competence and less responsibility.

FOR TRAFFIC SAFETY.

Omaha, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Red and green lights are hard to see. They should be bigger. It would be better to set up rubber springing posts 100 feet ahead of isolated lights like those at 60th and Dodge or 72nd and O. To warn of an approaching stop. Drivers should drive around the block rather than make a left turn. Lights and shadows make pedestrians hard to see. There should be depressed walks or raised paving. If the auditorium is to be two blocks long it should be built over the street so big trucks could pass underneath it.

NO "BUCK PASSING."

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: It has been called to my attention that in The Lincoln Star of Wednesday, April 20, in the six o'clock edition you have an editorial entitled: "How Much for the Money?" This editorial is built around the alleged statement, attributed to me, to the effect that "the Nebraska chief executive apparently was trying to pass the buck." This was supposed to be my comment after the governor's message to the Nebraska legislature on the state highway program.

To say that this misquotation is very distasteful to me is putting it mildly. If you will consult the six o'clock edition of The Star of Tuesday, April 19, you will find on page 2, column 3, comments attributed to me which are correct. I did say: "I think he has passed the ball to the legislature." There is a great deal of difference between those expressions and I know that you know the difference as well as anyone. However, to refresh your memory on these expressions will say it has always been my understanding that the expression "passing the buck" means avoiding responsibility, whereas "passing the ball" means to shift the offensive. In other words, the governor has done all he could legally. In my opinion it is up to the legislature to provide him with further authority.

In my remarks at no time did I intend to give the impression that the governor was trying to evade his responsibility in the matter.

WASHINGTON CALLING

by MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON—As this nation moves on to new responsibilities of world power, there are inevitable changes which seem at times to threaten the older and simpler way of life that most of us grew up under. Big government, a big military establishment, a greatly expanded foreign service and world wide information centers, all these mean a recasting of ideas and beliefs out of the past.

One of the deep concerns of the American Society of Newspaper Editors meeting here is with freedom of information. Voluntary censorship was accepted in wartime. But anything remotely like that in time of peace is repugnant.

The office of the secretary of defense recently issued Consolidation Directive No. 1. It raises some interesting points about free expression. Johnson is naturally concerned with ending the feud between the three services, which is one reason why unification has lagged and why the waste and duplication talked about by Herbert Hoover continue.

Nevertheless the sweeping nature of the directive calls for some serious thinking. At the heart of the matter is the question of intelligent and informed criticism of military policy. The all-powerful French general staff imposed the Maginot line concept on an critical public in France and we know with what disastrous consequences.

Directive No. 1 is an order for the "review," which means censorship, of "all informational material" originating from the departments of the national military establishment, including "classified military information or other matter." It provides review of:

"1.—Transcripts of testimony before committees of the congress in executive session by personnel subject to military jurisdiction, when such transcripts are made available for review prior to publication by the committees concerned.

"2.—Material dealing with military matters prepared for general publication by civilian employees of the national military establishment or the departments or agencies of which it is composed. Advice will be given to such employees concerning possible violations of policy or propriety.

"3.—Material prepared for public release by manufacturers, including subcontractors, concerning military equipment in process of development by them under contract for departments or agencies of the national military establishment.

"4.—Material for publication dealing with military matters prepared by reserve or national guard personnel based on information obtained through their post-war federal military training."

Strictly enforced, this would preclude any criticism of military policy even before committees of congress. If interpreted literally, it might prevent Paul Smith, editor of the San Francisco Chronicle from writing an editorial on some military subject. Smith had a distinguished combat record in the marine corps during World War II and if he kept up his reserve training, he would be subject to the review order.

Of course, that would not happen. But the directive now in force would hold back a great deal of information that, in my opinion, the public is entitled to. When it is put alongside the proposed revision of military law, more restrictive and more sweeping than ever before, it merits careful consideration.

If the directive had been in force, we should never have had a public airing of the dispute between Maj. Gen. Claire Chennault and the late Gen. Joseph Stilwell over the conduct of the war in China. It seems to me a healthy thing that that quarrel was aired. The conflicts, the errors, the failures of our commanders in World War II are instructive and not alone for professional military men.

I am frank to admit I may have a selfish interest in this as a reporter. One thing directive No. 1 will certainly do is spread a numbing fear through the Pentagon. The brass will be afraid to tell inquiring reporters their own name. Some benefits for unification may result. But such far-reaching censorship, which is what this amounts to, is bound to have grave disadvantages.

Court Upholds Decision In Benson Case

... Thurston Ruling

The state Supreme court affirmed the findings of the District court for Thurston county in the case of Craig Benson versus the General Implement corporation, in which the trial court found in favor of the plaintiff, Benson.

The suit concerned a bill of particulars filed by the plaintiff in the County court of Thurston county, to recover alleged "overcharges made and collected" by the defendant in a purchase of merchandise. The County court found for the plaintiff and awarded him $69 and costs, including $50 in attorneys' fees.

District Court Appeal.

The case was appealed to the District court, where finding was again made for Benson, and judgment entered against the defendant for $70.46 and costs, including $100 in attorneys' fees.

The defendant then appealed to the Supreme court, assigning errors to the trial court in entering a default judgment and refusing to set it aside.

In the opinion, the court ruled, "Without a bill of exceptions, the only question which can be presented to this court for decision is the sufficiency of the pleadings to support the judgment."

In a dissenting opinion, Chief Justice Robert Simmons said, "I do not agree with the basis of the court's opinion as to the necessity of a bill of exceptions. It would be a futile thing, a needless expense and encumber the record to bring up a bill of exceptions containing the showing upon which the findings are based."

In a case concerning the estate of Fred Bednar, Arthur A. Krause, executor of the estate, versus Josephine Bednar, the high court reversed the findings of the District court of Gage county and remanded the case with directions.

In the case, concerning an allowance made the widow of the person whose will is concerned, the County court granted an increase of allowance, and an appeal was taken to the District court.

The District court, in turn, disallowed the increase and put the allowance back to the original level.

The supreme court, however, ruled that the District court acquired no jurisdiction because the appeal was not taken within 30 days after the decision contained was made.

"A case removed to the District court from a final order of a County court in an estate matter is rightly dismissed if appellant took no action to appeal within 30 days of the order," the court ruled.

The judgment of the District court was reversed with instructions to dismiss the appeal of the appellee in that court and to certify the judgment of dismissal to the Gage county court.

Clothing Lost—B. F. Lyons, 213 X, Huskerville, reported to police that Saturday while moving to Huskerville a duffle bag containing clothing fell from a trailer and was lost. He estimated his loss at $300.

Peddler of Dreams

Chapter 1.

The trailer was long, old-fashioned and shabby. The car hitched to it was a coupe of a sturdy, inexpensive make and a model several years old. Parked beneath a towering oak tree whose leaves were beginning to feel the touch of Autumn, the trailer looked cheery and hospitable.

Felicity lifted the slices of ham from the frying pan to a platter and spoke over her shoulder to a fifteen-year-old boy who sat hunched over a book at the end of the trailer.

"Round up the gang, Jay dear. Supper's ready," she said cheerfully.

"Oke," said Jason, and swung himself down the trailer steps.

Felicity poured up the red-gravy in a bowl, added half a cup of hot coffee to the frying pan to "raise" the gravy, and poured it into the bowl. She scooped great spoonfuls of hominy-grits into another bowl, brought a pan of hot biscuits from the stove and filled five mugs of milk on the table.

She heard the sound of excited voices and the trailer door opened to admit Jason, herding before him four children; the eldest, Cornelia, aged thirteen; the youngest, Ellen, aged seven, with the clamorous ten-year-old twins between them. There was some sort of argument going on, and Felicity turned to arbitrate it, as usual.

"I betcha he's got a million books, Fliss," reported Ellen, wide-eyed and breathless. "And more magazines—gosh, how I'd like to cut paper-dolls out of 'em. He's good-looking, too."

"He is nice, Fliss," reported the serious, round-faced Cornelia, with an eagerness entirely alien to her grave thirteen-year-old self.

Felicity ushered them all to the table, before she said lightly:

"It would help if I had some idea who—and what—you're all talking about?"

"I found 'em in a trailer down the line," Jason reported. "Some guy that's got a bright new trailer and a swell car—and he's got enough books to start a second-hand store, and magazines, too. His name's Garrett Forbes."

Felicity stared at the children severely.

"Haven't I warned you folks that you mustn't go around poking your noses into other people's trailers?" she demanded.

"He said he was lonesome," Cornelia reported gravely. "And he's nice, Fliss—honestly. He's—he's swell!"

"Now, listen to me, you people!" Felicity said sternly. "If we stepped for the night in some town and stayed at a hotel, you wouldn't run down the street and dash in at people's houses, would you?"

"Tippy would," said Denny firmly.

Felicity's brown eyes danced a little. But she kept her expression stern. "Tippy would be a bag little girl if she did," she said. "Hard as it may be for you to believe, there are people in this world who don't like children—and some of them travel in trailers."

"Like Mrs. Hudgins," said Felicity. And then, seeing the ghost of terror in Ellen's eyes, she added soothingly, "But, of course, darling, Mrs. Hudgins wouldn't really have flung boiling water on the children who were skating in front of her house—she just said that to frighten them away."

"I betcha she would, too—I betcha Mrs. Hudgins is a witch that burns people," Tippy was saying cheerfully when Felicity turned on her.

"Tippy!" There was a note in Felicity's voice that the children heard but seldom, and always knew that it must be obeyed.

Tippy started, and she stammered, "Sure—I'm sorry, Fliss, I—I didn't mean anything."

"Eat your supper, draling," said Felicity to Ellen. "And nobody's going to bother you ever. Only—just stay close to Fliss until we get down to Florida, where you can go swimming and get all nice and brown and fat! Won't that be fun?"

"Fishing, too?" asked Ellen and now the fear had gone from her eyes.

"Oh, fishing, by all means. Jay will see to that," Felicity promised.

Later when the others were in bed, Jason and Felicity sat on the steps, shivering a little in the tawny Autumn air. Suddenly Felicity said:

"Ellen's better, isn't she, Jay?"

"Sure," said Jason swiftly—too swiftly.

"Does she seem—to you—as nervous as she was when we started?" asked Felicity, and held her breath for the answer.

"I don't think so," answered Jason, wanting to reassure her. "Gosh, I'd like to take a buggy whip to that Hudgins dame. What an old witch she must have been!"

A voice out of the darkness said pleasantly:

"Good evening. I brought the little girl some magazines."

In the faint yellow light that fell through the trailer's open door, Felicity saw him—a tall blond young man, perhaps twenty-five or six; dressed in gray slacks, a blue pullover sweater, hatless, the light ashine on hair the color of ripe wheat.

Contract Let For 700,000 Drivers' License Blanks

Owen Boyles, director of the state motor vehicle division said that a contract has been let by the state for the printing of 700,000 drivers' license blanks.

The contract specified delivery of the blanks to the division by Aug. 15. All Nebraska drivers' licenses will expire on Sept. 1, 1949.

Boyles said 650,000 blanks were ordered last year, and 621,519 licenses had been issued up to March 31, 1949. An increase in the number of licensed drivers is expected in the state during the next year.

The low bid on the 700,000 blanks was $3,400.

40-Foot Buses Vetoed By Governor Dewey For New York State

ALBANY, N. Y.—(AP)—Governor Dewey vetoed today a controversial bill which would have authorized buses 40 feet long to operate on highways in New York state.

Present law limits length of buses to 35 feet.

Dewey said some states permit 40-foot buses on highways but that "for the most part those are states in newer sections of the country with safer roads."

The Bob Lairds have a

Boom-Town Baby!

—But they're winning for their family what every child needs . . .

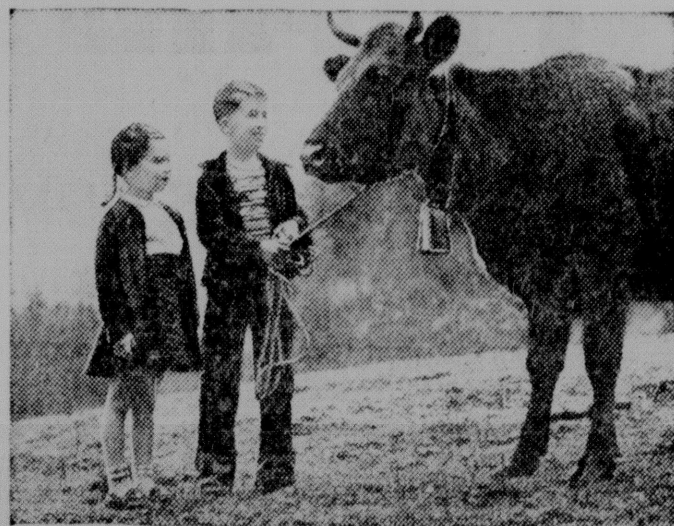

Problem enough . . . bringing up a family in today's world. But when Bob and Florence Laird brought little Stuart home to Drain, Oregon, they faced still another problem. The Lairds live in a town that's having "growing pains" of its own! How were they to give their youngsters the advantages that children get in more well-established towns . . . ?

It wouldn't be easy, they saw. But in Bob's own childhood, he'd had to start making his own way at 12. A better break for his family was worth working for!

Drain, Oregon, doubled its population during the war! From a "wide place in the road" it became a booming lumber center. Overnight, housing was short, schools overcrowded, and no play center for children.

Kathie and Eddie help their parents beat "boom town" prices! They tend family cow, chickens. The Lairds grow vegetables, too. Florence does the baking, feeds 5 for $100 a month. Parties are "potluck."

Big plans for these kids! "I didn't get to college," Bob says, "but they're not going to miss out, too!"

THE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES AND THEIR AGENTS

The Lairds, like other American families, prove to all of us that the only way we really solve our problems is by our own efforts!

These stories of real families much like yours also show how much more success, how much more happiness is possible when you have peace of mind . . . the sort of peace of mind that comes from wise management of money now, and from knowing that future security has been adequately provided for.

The Life Insurance Companies and their Agents bring you these American family close-ups because what this country amounts to depends upon what happens to its homes!

INSTITUTE OF LIFE INSURANCE 60 East 42nd Street, New York 17, N. Y.

Heading production for a local lumber company, Bob Laird is a busy man. Yet he's pitched in on town affairs, too. He's clerk of the school board, treasurer of a drive for a recreation center, active in scouting and church work—all things that help make Drain a town their children will be proud of!

Even a crowded house has advantages! The young Lairds like being in on all the family affairs. But Bob plans a bigger house for the future. "To feel secure, every child needs a home that can be a center of fun for family and friends," the Lairds believe. The life insurance coverage Bob gets for $50.00 a month has been so well planned by his agent that it provides both protection for his family and educational funds for his children.

And "when we are through paying the bills for the new baby," says Bob, "I'm going to get my agent's advice about more life insurance." Meanwhile Stuart, like his brother and sister, is growing up in the kind of happy home that hard work and good planning provide!

Brainard Man Killed In Unusual Highway Accident

Stalled Car Blamed For Road Death

Victim Apparently Was Hit By Truck

BRAINARD, Neb. —(AP)—Edward Polivka, 57, Brainard, was killed Sunday in an unusual traffic mishap five miles east of here in Butler county.

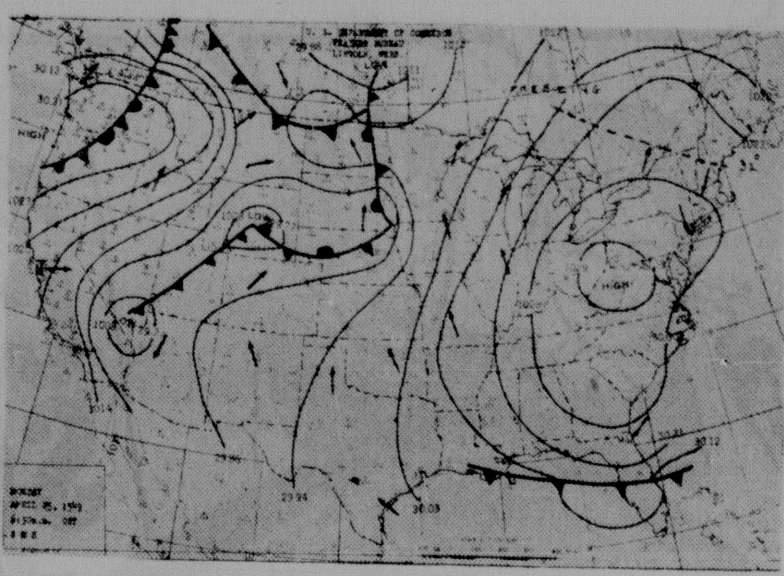

Sheriff C. L. Muntz said Polivka was driving his car out of a side road when it became stalled on the highway. He apparently got out of the vehicle when he noticed four trucks coming from the west. To avoid hitting the stalled car, the first truck, driven by Lloyd Walters, 28, of Omaha, applied the brakes and swerved the vehicle into a ditch adjoining the highway, the sheriff said.

Swerved Into Ditch. The second truck, driven by Johnny Meredith, 21, of Salt Lake City, swerved his truck into the ditch on the other side of the road. The drivers of the third and fourth trucks were able to stop their vehicles.

Sheriff Muntz said Polivka was found dead on the highway. He apparently had been struck down by one of the trucks. Neither of the truck drivers was injured.

Polivka was the 46th person to be injured fatally in a motor vehicle accident in Nebraska this year.

Polivka was born near Brainard and lived in that vicinity all of his life. Survivors include his widow, a daughter, Martha, in California, and a son, Leonard, at home.

WEATHER BUREAU SUMMARY—Up to early Monday no precipitation is reported in connection with the trough of low pressure over the area from Nebraska to Utah and southern Nevada; but there is a northward movement of moist air from the Gulf of Mexico which will increase the humidity over the Plains States and may cause some scattered thunderstorms with the rise in temperature during the day. After heavy rainfall from last Monday to Friday in one portion or another of Texas, further showers and thunderstorms have occurred within the 24 hours ending early Monday in southwestern and central Texas, with over an inch at Austin and San Antonio and 4.31 inches at Laredo. Light local precipitation occurred in the North Atlantic coastal states and along the coast from Chesapeake, S. C., to Jacksonville, Florida. Sunday was warm in the Plains states from Nebraska to Oklahoma, with high temperatures reaching 90 in some places. Cold weather prevails in the northeast, with freezing in Maine and some other sections of New England. Frost occurred in portions of the Ohio valley and the southern Appalachians.

Democrats Have Sights Set On State Victories In '50

... McGrath Criticizes Republicans' Attitudes

OMAHA—(AP)—Nebraska's democrats want everyone to know they have their sights set on some state victories in the 1950 election. Nearly a thousand of the party's faithful turned out Saturday to beat the drums for a victory in the next election, and to review the Truman victory in the last.

The principal speaker was Senator J. Howard McGrath, (D-RI), chairman of the democratic national committee.

Others who spoke briefly included Rep. Eugene O'Sullivan (D-Neb.), who brought Nebraska democrats their only victory in state election.

Clayton Shroul, state democratic chairman, told the banquet—a $25 to $250 a plate affair—that recent election democratic mayors at Hastings, Norfolk, Fremont and York were indications of the Nebraska political trend.

McGrath lashed the republican party for what he called its attitude of "me first" as well as "me too." He declared "we do not have a competition of political ideas."

The republicans have not offered any fresh ideas, he declared. "They only criticize what the democrats do."

$5,264 Spent On T.B. Case-finding Program; Fenton Is Renamed Head

J. E. Fenton, past president of the Lancaster County Tuberculosis association was re-elected Monday noon at a meeting of the board of directors at the Y.W.C.A. Mr. Fenton expressed appreciation of community co-operation in the intensified program of health education and early case-finding which began with the opening of the chest X-ray survey center in November of 1947. "The fact that diagnosis of minimal or 'early' tuberculosis by local physicians has nearly doubled, showing an increase from 11 per cent in 1947 to 21 per cent in 1948, and that 18 per cent of all cases of tuberculosis reported in 1948 were first alerted to possible trouble by the smallest chest X-rays received at the survey center, where over 14,000 adults have been X-rayed, shows that our program is working and has real value," Mr. Fenton said.

Praises Health Department Work. Mrs. Dorothy T. Ogden, executive secretary, praised the work of the Lancaster county health department in following up all suspects and contacts and spoke of the need of a family counselor service to assist physicians and public health nurses in dealing with the social and emotional crisis which accompany a diagnosis of tuberculosis and which have so much influence on the patients' safe recovery. She pointed out that a breakdown is as costly as a new case, and that rehabilitation is as important to tuberculosis control as early case-finding. The directors voted to finance a family counselor service for a demonstration period of two years.

Albert A. Held, treasurer reported $5,264.66 spent on the case-finding program, $3,761.41 on health education, $805.25 on rehabilitation, $300 on research, $1,745.08 on the seal case campaign, $1,871.31 on administration, and $826.62 on school health and co-ordination of program with other agencies during the fiscal year.

Officers elected: J. E. Fenton, president; Walter W. White, 1st vice president; Dr. O. V. Calhoun, 2nd vice president; Dr. J. M. Neely, X-ray survey director; Mrs. Duncan Cowles, secretary; Albert A. Held, treasurer.

Brown New Jaycee Head

Several Awards To Lincoln Group

FREMONT, Neb. —(AP)—The Nebraska junior chamber of commerce Sunday named Max Brown of Lexington as president and had selected North Platte as the site for the 1950 convention.

Brown was elected at the end of the second ballot when Vince Jones of Columbus withdrew. Jones instructed his delegates to give their votes to Brown.

A two-thirds majority is necessary for election. On the first two ballots Brown and Jones had been running neck and neck. A third ballot would have been necessary if Jones hadn't withdrawn.

Plan Quarterly Conference. Falls City was chosen as the site for the quarterly conference of the state organization. The group will meet there in July, chamber officials said.

Before the convention ended Sunday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Max Brown of Lexington were crowned state king and queen of the junior chamber of commerce.

Fran Minard of Lincoln and Chris Rosenberg of North Platte were named new national Jaycee directors. Rosenberg is the retiring state Jaycee president.

The Jaycees announced they would sponsor a statewide project to fill up all cisterns and wells within the city limits of their respective cities and towns.

Walter Kiernan's Opinion

(Distributed by International News Service) The first week of baseball was real exciting ... even the White Sox were tied for first place before the opening game.

Then they started playing like the White Sox.

The senators took one game with Truman looking on. Then they started playing like Dewey.

No process. KIERNAN serves on the benches yet but the baseball anti-trust action is pending ... maybe waiting for a mid-season doubleheader game.

The next monopoly action may come from the lady who lost her spot baking biscuits on television when baseball returned.

Anyway it's a grand game and it's nice to know that when the head lines read "Reds Take Cardinals" no phony trials or fast convictions are involved.

Peru Infant Dies; Rites Here Tuesday

THE PEOPLE SPEAK

New Deal, or the Fair Deal. He would set up a new parity and subsidy program based on the last 10 years of prices, the highest in the history of the country. He would retain the present control over the basic farm crops, such as wheat, corn and other grains that go into finished products for the dinner table, buy them up to hold prices up, would let meats, potatoes, eggs and perishables seek their own level on the market, pay the producer a subsidy where the market prices were below parity—for the purpose of bringing down prices to the consumer. He does not give any formula as to how he would get the retailer to reduce prices on the daily needs of the people's food baskets. Some of the raw materials that he would control have dropped 25-50—75 and in some cases 100 per cent, but the food basket prices have only dropped 2 1/2 per cent according to the bureau of labor statistics. How would Mr. Brannan go about it? If the retail prices would come down Mr. Brannan's proposal would not sound so bad. Tax one element of our people to help another element. If that wouldn't be raw socialism then I don't know what you would call it.

GARDEN GLANCES WITH THE MOON

"Nature, enchanting Nature, in whose form And lineaments divine I trace a hand That errs not, and find raptures still renew'd. Is free to all men—universal prize."

—William Cowper

By CECILE PARRISH SWINGLE.

The moon this bright April morning is in the fiery and barren sign, Aries, in fourth quarter. Wednesday morning at 10:39 it will enter the earthy and semi-fruitful sign, Taurus. Today, tomorrow and until 10:39 Wednesday morning are perfect days to be about your digging or destroying of old and undesirable growths.

If you must do some planting let it be after 10:39 Wednesday, and then only those things that produce their yield in the soil, like onions, radishes, carrots, beets, and the like. Crosby's Early Egyptian are the beets to plant now and two short rows are plenty for a family of four. This far better, to say nothing of economy, to plant less at a time and do a repeat. You know the reason—too much maturing at one time is wasteful. Your family has had enough and more, and has lost its zest for beets; it's too early to start canning, you aver, so the beets just remain in the garden and grow old and coarse.

I think I shall repeat today the remedy we use for carrot maggots which I gave you Friday. Do please clip it and paste in your garden notebook for future reference. You may not need it now but your neighbor may and you'll have it at your fingertips when you do. I have so little time to write personal notes to all your inquiries but please believe me that I do try, when it cannot be answered in this column. Soak the carrot seed overnight in calomel water—two grains of calomel in water to cover for each packet of seed. It comes, as your druggist will tell you, in 1/4, 1/2 and one-grain tablets and buy only the amount you need at a time.

If you did not get tulips and other bulbs that should be planted in the fall in at the proper time last year and now have them in your basement wondering if they are still good and what to do with them—do this: Plant them just as they should have been then, setting each on a cushion of sand for good drainage. They will not bloom this spring but you will at least save many of the bulbs and there they are for next year. This happens to the best of us so do not be too discouraged. And next year, better luck!

Thursday morning early there will be a new moon in the earthy and semi-fruitful sign, Taurus, and then it will be time again to plant those things that produce their yield above the soil as lettuce, parsley, peas, etc., and annual flowers for the cutting garden. Friday night at 7:47 the moon will enter the airy and barren sign, Gemini.

So until Wednesday.

At the banquet held at the Fontenelle on Friday evening, Mrs. Edith Sherrard, associate in social studies on the organization's national staff, was the speaker. # No Grand Slam, Maybe But Good Help

WE DEFINITELY DO NOT have the count for a grand slam in society today, but we do have what would be considered a "nice helping hand," in our better bridge circles.

One trick we are able to take with a small trump has to do with the Lincoln Country club and its formal opening dinner dance on Saturday evening, May 14. We hear that some reservations already have been made, and probably before the party date rolls around there will be a full house. We can tell you a secret, though—no local guests may go to the party—Just members of the club and out of town guests—

HEAR THAT THERE ARE TO BE SOME new neighbors here and there about town—Mrs. Leland Coryell, Jr., has sold her home at 2850 Sheridan boulevard, to Dr. and Mrs. Richard Garlinghouse—Mrs. W. S. Cochran, at 3300 South Twenty-seventh street, has sold her house to Mrs. Coryell and Mrs. Cochran has taken an apartment in the vicinity of Twenty-fourth and A streets. Moving day for all concerned, with the exception of Dr. and Mrs. Garlinghouse, is planned for approximately May 15. Dr. and Mrs. Garlinghouse expect to be in their new home June 1.

THE ABOVE PARAGRAPH REMINDS us, too, that Helen Cochran Teal will leave about the middle of May for San Francisco where she plans to remain indefinitely.

WE HAVE MENTIONED before, and of course everyone knows by this time that Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Foot arrived Saturday, en route to their home in Red Wing, Minn., from Hawaii, California, Arizona, and other interesting points.

Complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Foot, Mrs. John Dorgan was a dinner hostess on Saturday evening at the Lincoln Country club, when she entertained nine guests.

This evening Mrs. Foot's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Joyce, will be host and hostess at dinner at their home for a small group of guests, and on Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cline will entertain the members of the family at dinner at the Lincoln Country club, complimenting the visitors.

SPEAKING OF TUESDAY'S events—The feminine members of the board of the Circlet Community theater are entertaining at a no hostess luncheon at the LCC on Tuesday, honoring Mrs. Dwight Cherry.

ONE GOOD THOUGHT ALWAYS leads to another—in this instance we are referring to the Circlet theater and its Omaha guests for the Sunday evening performance. About thirty devotees of community theaters came from Omaha including the director of the Community Playhouse in Omaha, Kendrick Wilson and Mrs. Wilson; the box office and production personnel of the Omaha theater, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Georgeson, and the following members of the board of the Omaha Community Playhouse—Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Spier, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Teal (the "Val" Teal of SEP and other slick paper magazines) and Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Colby. At the moment the Omaha Community Playhouse are rehearsing "John Loves Mary," the current production of the Circlet theater.

THE PAST WEEK-END was a busy one for Miss Velda Benda, whose marriage to Sidney Anderson, will be an event of Saturday, April 30. In addition to a dinner Saturday evening and a brunch on Sunday, Miss Benda was the honoree at a supper Sunday night for which Dr. Ordella Geisler was hostess at her home. Nine guests were invited for the supper and an informal evening afterward.

MEMBERSHIP CARDS HAVE been presented to three new members of the Bassinet club today—all of them out of town—First on the list, because of the "ladies first" business, is Miss Leslie Ann Kalk, who arrived in Portland, Ore., on Monday, April 18—Miss Leslie's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Kalk of Portland, and her maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. George J. Brown of Portland, formerly of Lincoln.

Sunday Wedding

The marriage of Miss Shirley Jean Weyand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Weyand, to Walter E. Haith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Haith of Auburn, was solemnized at a 3 o'clock ceremony on Sunday afternoon, April 24, at the Elm Park Methodist church. Pink snapdragons and pink gladioli formed a background for the service which was read by the Rev. Carl Bader in the presence of one hundred guests. Miss Hilda Chowins, organist, played the wedding music, and also accompanied William Timm, who sang "Always," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Miss Pat Weyand, as the maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Miss Arlene Lorey and Miss Darlene Lorey, wore alike bouffant frocks of white-dotted blue organdy and carried colonial bouquets of pink roses.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a gown of white taffeta. A deep net yoke, framed with a wide, scalloped bertha, created the off-shoulder effect in the fitted bodice which tapered to an Elizabethan point in front. The full skirt, completed with a long, aisle-wide train, was edged with a deep dust ruffle. A tiara of net held in place her finger tip veil of silk illusion, and she carried a white Bible marked with gardenias from which fell a shower of satin ribbon.

William Smith served Mr. Haith as best man, and the ushers were Orville Bergman of Auburn, and James Kulawik.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Weyand, where the serving table was centered with a tiered wedding cake, and appointed with spring flowers. Assisting at the reception were Miss Doris Baker, Miss Loretta Waline, Miss Bonnie Applegate, Mrs. Orville Bergman, Mrs. William Smith and Miss DeLoris Monia.

Mr. Haith and his bride will reside at 1900 Jefferson, Lincoln.

ered dish luncheon was served by Miss Regina Ferris, chairman; Mrs. William Mapes, Mrs. L. D. Talley, Mrs. G. M. Mostad, Mrs. Robert T. Malone and Mrs. Ira Admire.

American Mother—1949

Mrs. Gillis, Of Texas,
Mother Of Six, Wins
Top Honor For Year

(AP Newsfeatures)

NEW YORK — The American
Mother of 1949 is a tiny Texan, mother of six, whose world has been her church and music.

She is Mrs. Pearl Owens Gillis, 60, of (831 East Harvey Street)
Fort Worth, Tex., chosen by the American Mothers' Committee of the Golden Rule Foundation.

Mrs. Gillis, wife of a postal department employee, is the mother of four boys and two girls, all of them musically inclined. She has long been active in the Baptist church, local welfare activities and during the depression years took eight young college students into her home.

One of her sons, Dr. Carroll O.
Gillis, is a foreign missionary of the Southern Baptist church, currently home on furlough. Another is Don Gillis, a production director of the National Broadcasting
Co. in New York. Dr. Everett
Gillis, a third son, is a college professor of English and the fourth, Lewis, is a composer and arranger of music.

Both daughters are married and live in Fort Worth.

The American Mothers' committee has selected a National Mother and 48 State mothers for the past 15 years. Selections are based on her success as a mother evidenced in her children's character and achievements. She must reflect religious and moral integrity, courage, cheerfulness, patience, affection, kindness, understanding and homemaking ability. She must have, as well, a sense of civic and international understanding and be active in community work.

Mrs. Gillis was notified of her selection in Fort Worth last week end. She will come to New York, appear on a number of radio programs, speak at Mother's day ceremonies on May 8 on the Central Park mall and be honored at luncheons and receptions.

White Sox AL Surprise

TIE ATHLETICS FOR 2ND PLACE; BROOKLYN LEADS NATIONAL RACE

By JOE REICHER

HOLD OFF on those flowers—the patient is far from dead. The patient, of course, is the Chicago White Sox, the club that was doomed by the experts to die of loneliness in the dreary confines of the American league basement.

Apparently the White Sox have different ideas on the subject. Judging from Sunday standings, the Sox not only are very much alive, but are making some of the other teams roll over and play dead.

The end of the first week of play finds the Sox tied with the Philadelphia Athletics for second place, only half a game behind the fast-moving New York Yankees.

Pop Ashburn Gives Richie Good Advice

... On Hitting

PHILADELPHIA.—(AP)—Richie Ashburn has taken his father's advice and is swinging for distance.

As a result, the 22-year-old kid from Tilden, Neb., who led both major leagues in stolen bases last year won a ball game from the Brooklyn Dodgers for the Philadelphia Phillies Sunday.

The tawney haired speedster stepped up in the seventh inning with a mate aboard, the score tied 4-4, and slammed a Carl Eskrine pitch over the right field wall of Shibe park to win the ball game. It was the first Phillies' win over Brooklyn at home in their last eight meetings.

Too, it was the first homer Ashburn ever hit out of a major league ball park. He hit two more trippers last season but both were inside-the-park jobs.

Richie hit .333 in 1948 to trail only Stan Musial, National league batting chameleon in the final averages.

While the performance was good enough to win Ashburn the Sporting News nomination of "rookie of the year," it didn't set too well with Pop Ashburn.

So, when the Phillies reported to their clubhouse, Pop Ashburn, father of Pop Ashburn, and informed him of the facts of baseball life.

"You don't pay off in this game for bunts and beating out infield hits. You have to drive in runs and hit the long ball."

"Drop those hands to the end of the bat and pull for the fences. You'll help both yourself and the club."

Sunday was the payoff for both Richie and his dad.

When the Tilden, Neb., outfielder parked that ball over the wall, the biggest smile in the ball park didn't belong to Richie, his teammates or any of the 30,000 fans.

It was on the face of a Shibe Park gatekeeper—Pop Ashburn. And the remark that came to his lips may be true, but he was glad he said it—"That's my boy."

Brooklyn's scrappy Dodgers retained their half-game margin in the National league race, splitting a doubleheader with the Phillies in Philadelphia. The Phils won the opener, 7-4, and the Dodgers took the second, 6-5. Home runs by Richie Ashburn, Stan Lopata and Eddie Miller highlighted the Phils' victory.

The Cincinnati Reds fell to a second place tie with the New York Giants when they divided a twin bill with the Pirates in Pittsburgh. The Reds won the first game, 3-2, in 10 innings with Charlie Krasz pitching home Johnny Wroblewski with the winning run. Eddie Bonham drove in all Pittsburgh's runs with a pair of home runs in the Pirates' 3-1 second game victory.

Sheldon Jones went all the way, scattering seven hits, as the Giants defeated the Boston Braves 5-2. Bobby Thompson provided the winning margin in the first inning with a three-run homer, off Vern Riffe.

Joe Garagiola doubled home Ernie Shaeffer with the run that gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 3-4 triumph over the Chicago Cubs. The blow came in the last half of the ninth with a homer by Tommie Brown.

The scheduled game between Cleveland and Detroit was postponed by rain and cold weather.

Game Clubs Asked 'Pull No Punches'

... By Wildlife Official

By ALAN THOMPSON

Dr. Clarence Cottan, assistant director of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife service, asked the more than 100 representatives of Nebraska sportsmen's clubs gathered at the Cornhusker hotel Monday morning to pull no punches.

The meeting was held to give Nebraska hunters an opportunity to tell Washington how they feel about water fowl problems.

"This American resource belongs to you, and you deserve a voice in the governing of it," Dr. Cottan told the assembly. "It is our intention to justify the policy of our stewardship."

Besides a statewide representation of 100-odd wild life organizations the discussion was attended by the state game commission, the Council of Sportsmen's Clubs, and Dan Janzen, Minneapolis, regional director of the service.

Cottan explained that the fundamental purpose of any regulation is for the perpetuation of the resource, not to assure a full bag to every hunter in the field.

The secondary purpose of game regulations according to the Washington official is to make wildlife equitably available to the public from a national standpoint.

To achieve these aims, he added, necessitates restrictions which may at first seem objectionable.

"Every hunter is a first-class conservationist except in the first person," Cottan quipped. He urged those present to consider all the discussion as it applied to their personal interests.

Geese Increase.

Cottan projected slides to illustrate the latest compilation of data regarding wildlife population and distribution.

The winter inventory of ducks indicated a 13 per cent decrease in the central flyway, which includes Nebraska. Geese have shown a startling increase of 160 per cent over last year.

Other facts revealed by the game authority opened debate with results of interviews and banding.

Some 45,000 duck hunters approached by the service had an average season bag of nine birds, or 1.9 waterfowl per day.

Banding studies disclosed that the longevity of 70 per cent of the duck population is one year.

High Winds Fai Nettle Links Play

Lincoln's three major golf courses—Hillcrest, the Country Club and Pioneers—all reported heavy turnout Sunday despite high winds.

Pioneers led all courses in attendance with 305 playing Saturday and 359 Sunday, Pro John Peterson reported.

Bunny Richards, Hillcrest pro said that 250 played his links Saturday and 280 Sunday.

Country club play included 205 Sunday and 125 Saturday.

Pro scores of the day was 71, posted by LCC's 17-year-old Chick Battey. Playing with Louie Roper and his father, Wheaton Battey, Chick had a 35 over the first nine and a 36 over the last nine.

Denver Edges Athletics, 7-6

... IN 11 INNINGS

DENVER, Colo.—What had been an airtight pitcher's battle for 10 innings between Lincoln and Denver was transformed into a hectic slugfest in the 11th with the Bears winning out for a 7-6 Western league triumph Sunday night.

Fred Wells of Lincoln and Burt Barkelew of Denver duelled in fine style through 10 frames. Then each hurler faded badly.

Lincoln had picked up single runs in the third and sixth innings to offset two Denver tallies in the second.

The Bears failed to score in their half of the ninth when a squeeze play failed to click.

Lou Lammers opened the 11th for the A's with his second home run of the season. Joe Alperio and Bob Kennedy walked, followed by a single from Tom Kirk.

Catcher Walt Novick brought in the first two runners and Kirk scored on Bob Stewart's outfield fly. That four-run burst made the A's apparent winners.

Denver replied with a homer by Catcher Walt Linden which scored two runners ahead of him. John Lybrand walked. Angelone slugged the ball to Shortstop Bob Stewart who threw wildly trying for a double play.

WINNING RUN.

Cowboy Martin, running and Lybrand, went to third and Angelone to second. Pete Tedeschi finished the rally with a single to center, bringing home the tying and winning runs.

Ed Morris drew the loss for Lincoln after relieving Wells with none out in the 11th. Virgil Jester, who replaced Barkelew with none out in the 11th, got credit for the Denver win.

The two teams play again Monday night.

Abandoned Well Claims 6-Year-Old

Child Tumbles Into Hole While Picking Flowers

MERTENS, Tex. — (AP) — An abandoned water well on a vacant lot claimed the life of a six-year-old child yesterday.

The body of Thomas Britton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Britton of Mertens, was pulled from the well about two hours after he had tumbled into it while picking flowers with playmates.

The well, on a lot 50 yards from the Britton home, had a curbing about the height of a brick. It was three feet in diameter.

Council May Study County Governments

A resolution directing the legislative council to make a study of county government will be presented to the legislature according to Sens. Charles Wilson, John P. McKnight, and William Metzger. It provides consideration of the possibility of consolidation of offices, uniform purchase and sales of materials, readjustment of salaries, uniform highway improvements, etc.

The resolution calls attention to the fact that studies have been made to improve state government, but the counties have been ignored in the past even though their expenditures are greater.

Endurance Fliers Enter Last Full Day Of Six Weeks

FULLERTON, Cal. — (INS) — Endurance flight record holders Bill Barris and Dick Riedel entered their last full day in the air today.

The weary pilots plan to return to earth at 11:44 a. m., tomorrow after having completed an even six weeks—1,008 hours—in flight.

A chamber of commerce celebration is planned for them when they bring their light Aeronca plane to the ground.

The fliers dived over the desert at Indio last night and early today after making an appearance yesterday at the annual American Gold Cup light plane races in San Diego. They refueled while there to show the crowd of 7,000 how it was done.

Arizona Pair Down.

YUMA, Ariz. — (INS) — Unsuccessful Yuma endurance fliers Woodrow Jongeward and Bob Woodhouse said today that they would "try again in a few days" after their plane has been repaired.

The two were forced down last night, after 74 hours and 23 minutes in the air, when their engine began to miss and overheat during refueling. It was decided to land rather than risk a crash.
